5.3. Object and department are assigned from the employee card

Often, a department and/or object is indicated on the employee card. The following rules must be followed on the fixed asset change document. In the case of different options (user, in charge, no relation) of the system setting Asset and Employee relation, the department and the object are placed differently on the employee card.

5.3.1. Asset and Employee relation = user

- When changing the user, the department and object fields are placed from the employee's card.
- When changing the user, if some other values are indicated in the department and object fields on the change document, they are overwritten with the employee's card data.
- When changing the in charge, the department and object fields are not overwritten.

5.3.2. Asset and Employee relation = in charge

- When changing the user, the department and object are not overwritten with the employee's card data.
- When changing the in charge, the department and object are not overwritten with the employee's card data.

5.3.3. Asset and Employee relation = no relation

- When changing the user, the department and object are not overwritten with the employee's card data.
- When changing the in charge, the department and object are not overwritten with the employee's card data.
- Under the Assets tab on the employee card, no history of changes is created.
